

Field trip: Nokia Kanata Campus

Did you get to see (and possibly touch) a: 7705, 7750, 7950; 7450 ESS? Others?

What are the major groups & divisions that exist at Nokia's Kanata campus?

What products does Nokia design & engineer in Kanata?

What is Nokia's overall most important product or work produced in Kanata?

What support roles does Nokia provide out of their Kanata offices?

What is the difference between Enterprise, Service Provider, and Backbone/core segments of the networking market place?

Why is there so much fuss about "7705SAR" and "5620 SAM"? What are they?

What's this "Nuage" company all about? Will they just disappear in a few years?

What do the terms "fixed access", "mobile access", and "backhaul" mean? What other terms should appear in this short list?

Where (ie. which market segments) does Nokia compete against Cisco?

Where (ie. which market segments) does Nokia have their largest share? How do they know this for sure?

How does Nokia ensure that they stay "ahead of the curve" in the rapidly evolving market place? How is this reflected in activity at the Kanata campus?

What are some of the reasons a person would want to work for Nokia?

How does a person manage to get a position in Nokia's "Blue Skies" dept?

How many BIT-NET grads work at Nokia? How many in the 5620 SAM group?

What options exist for employees to travel to, or work in, other countries?