

PostLab 9: More ACL Practice

For this week's postlab, there's no work required on the equipment. In its place there's an exercise on writing ACLs in Cisco's "extended" format.

You may need to do some research for the well-known port numbers of common networking applications & protocols. Carefully reading the lecture notes from this week may provide you with some clues.